AN-AMERICAN DAY OBSERVED BY ROTARIANS

GILBERTO ARANGO OF BOGOTA, COLOMBIA WAS SPEAKER

Observing Pan-American day, members of the Greencastle Rotary club heard Dr. Gilberto Arango of Bogota, Colombia, deliver the political, social and economic phases of his country.

Arranged by Dr. Laurel H. Hark, the program in the form of an interview between Dr. Arango and Wayne Wolfe, manager in the Spanish department at Paul University, was presented at noon Wednesday in the Presbyterian church.

Pointing out that his country had the first commercial airplane in the world, Dr. Arango said, "Colombia has jumped from a flat boat stage and the era of the ox-cart, to the age of air transportation. Trips which a few years ago took eight days, now can be made in four and a half hours."

Discussing the educational system of Colombia, the speaker stated that there is no cost so that the average individual is concerned in attending school through the elementary grades through the university level. "If a student's father is a millionaire he may be required to pay 400 pesos, or about $200 in American money," Dr. Arango said.

Colombians have forgiven the people of the United States for their part in the revolt of Panama during the controversy over construction of the canal, he reported, "and for the past fifteen years there has been the best possible cooperation between our two governments."

Gorman, reportedly a parolee California convict, was unarmed and did not resist arrest, authorities said.

Hinshaw, president of the Citizens' Bank in Shirley, was shot at his front door when he answered a knock Monday night.

Francis Hedrick, 19, and Lawrence Anderson, 30, both of Indianapolis, were arrested Tuesday morning. Police said Hedrick involved Anderson and himself in the shooting while he was questioned, and identified Gorman as the gunman.

Pin Ball Machine Destroyed On Courthouse Lawn At Judge's Order

Judge John H. Allee ordered the "pin-ball" machine shown below to be destroyed immediately and he further ordered that it be done on the courthouse lawn, so that the wide world would know that his orders had been carried out.

Although a few gathered around to see the destruction of the $250 gambling machine, those who saw it were quite well pleased with the action taken by the court. Sheriff Sutherland, who was accused by the grand jury of trying to help his friends install these same machines throughout the county, his deputy Vic Cue and assistant Claude Wimmer, helped wield the hammer that soon put the machine out of operation. A representative of The Daily Banner salvaged some steel balls out of it as souvenirs of the occasion.

James H. Cardinal in his testimony Wednesday morning evidently did not figure on the long memory of the law because he told Judge Allee that he had not been convicted of a crime and when Prosecuting Attorney Durham questioned him about a conviction in 1935 in Putnam county, he failed to remember it. The records here show it to be the case, Mr. Durham said. The prosecuting attorney also placed state policemen on the witness stand to testify that their records showed Cardinal had been arrested for visiting a gaming house in Marion county and he finally admitted that he served a 30 day penal farm sentence for handling slot machines in Boone county.

Judge Allee told him he had been inclined to be lenient, but after he lied about his former convictions, he meted out a 60 days penal farm sentence and a fine of $100. Cardinal was inclined to argue about the "days" of his sentence, but they stood.

Prosecuting attorney Durham also placed Mrs. Dorothy Newgent of Morton on the stand. She testified that Cardinal came to her restaurant and asked to install a pin-ball machine. She said she showed him a copy of The Daily Banner of February 15 which carried the no gambling edict of Sheriff Sutherland. She said he left, saying he was coming to Greencastle to see the sheriff. He returned late in the day and said he had seen the sheriff. When he was on the witness stand, he said he did not see the sheriff but "good salesmanship" induced him to tell Mrs. Newgent the story to the contrary.

Leonard Newman, filling station operator of Mt. Meridian came on the stand and he said Cardinal came to his place and insisted on installing a machine, saying he would not be responsible in case of a raid, but he would place his own name in it and he would be the one to take the responsibility. Newman did not permit him to leave the machine, he said.

State Policemen Cletis Miller and Harold Roseberry said they were picked up the confiscated machine at the Y Palace at 43 and 36 after playing it for an hour. He said they won several five games.

PIN-BALL MACHINE IN OPEN COURT

This pin-ball machine which had been brought into open court Wednesday for the trial of James H. Cardinal was later ordered destroyed by Judge John H. Allee. Cardinal told the court there are 10,000 of these machines in operation in Indiana.

"SLOT MACHINE" AFTER OFFICERS WORKED IT OVER

Assails Fire Laws In Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 14 — (UP)—Illinois fire laws are weak, and must be modernized to prevent tragedies like the St. Anthony's hospital fire at Effingham, State Fire Marshal Pat Kelly said today.

Kelly told Gov. Adlai Stevenson yesterday that Illinois' fire laws are "vestigial and without force."

He said that the state fire marshal and local officials have concurrent jurisdiction over inspections which have become "a matter which is everybody's business and generally winds up nobody's business."

Stevenson said he would name a committee of fire experts to investigate state fire hazards and recommend improvement action.

Seventy-five persons were killed in the St. Anthony's fire shortly before midnight April 4. Frank Wilkins, Effingham fire chief, said the hospital had four 2-and-one-half gallon fire extinguishers and cooled water hoses on each of its three floors. It did not have an automatic sprinkler system.

Hospital staff members apparently tried to use the equipment before they were trapped in the roaring blaze or had to flee, Wilkins said.

Lt. Al Russell and Patrolman James Herman of Weirton, W. Va., were found unharmed at 6 a. m. handcuffed to a small tree near the farm of George Betz. They were discovered by Betz when he went to the barn to do the milking.

Betz sawed down the tree so that the handcuffs could be slipped free.

It said the bombs cost about $1,000,000 each, and that the present stockpile is between 100 and 200.

FRANKFURT, April 14 — (INS)—Earl J. Carroll, attorney for Russell G. Bird, who allegedly was "shanghaied" from Indiana to Germany to face an army black market inquiry, today demanded the resignation of army secretary Royall.

Carroll made his demand as a reply to Royall's statement in Washington that "Bird took no steps to challenge the legality of the army's action during the sixteen days between the arrest and the return to Germany."

Carroll said: "Royall's comment is not only facetious but is such a deliberate misrepresentation of the facts as to warrant Royall's removal from office."

WASHINGTON, April 14 — (INS)—President Truman hinted today that he plans an early shakeup of "little cabinet" defense posts and important diplomatic assignments in Europe.

QUAKE ROCKS NORTHWEST; 8 KNOWN DEAD

PROPERTY DAMAGE EXPECTED TO EXCEED $20,000,000

SEATTLE, April 14 — (UP)—Experts warned today that more tremors could follow the earthquake which rocked the Pacific northwest with property damage estimated at $20,000,000 and a loss of eight lives.

Prof. Samuel N. Dicken, head of the University of Oregon's Geology Department, said at Eugene, Ore., that further shocks are possible if the earth's crust continues to "act up."

The quake yesterday was the worst in the region's history, spreading damage through a dozen western Washington cities and scores of smaller communities.

At least 61 persons were hospitalized, some in serious condition, and hundreds of others suffered minor injuries either from falling debris or from accidents in their frantic attempts to escape.

The earthquake struck at 11:55:40 a. m. (PST) and rocked the entire coastline from Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., to Salem, Ore., for more than 60 seconds, shattering buildings, starting fires, breaking water and gas mains, and sending hundreds of downtown shoppers, and Holy Week churchgoers into a brief period of panic.

Spokane, Walla Walla, Wenatchee, Yakima and other Washington cities as far as 300 miles east across the Cascade Range felt the tremor. But death and destruction was centered along a 125-mile strip from Seattle south to Longview on the Columbia river border of Oregon.

Damage to schools, churches, office buildings, bridges and industrial plants was so widespread that officials offered only conservative estimates of the damage. Still, estimates from throughout the damage area indicated that the total would pass the $20,000,000 mark.

Hardest hit were Seattle, Tacoma, Olympia, Chehalis, Centralia, Longview, Kelso and Castle Rock. Workers at the Hanford atomic works on the flat lands in eastern Washington reported feeling a slight tremor. The Booneville dam on the Oregon border was unscathed, although earth slides were reported to have occurred nearby.

Mayor William Devin of Seattle, coordinating disaster work in this city of 500,000, said "damage will run into the millions. It is incredible there were so few casualties."

Seattle Fire Chief William Fitzgerald said "Thank God, most school children were on Easter vacation."

Dr. Eljo E. Vesanan, University of Washington seismologist, described the quake as "the most severe in the recorded history of the Pacific Northwest." He measured the quake's intensity at eight. Twelve is the highest. Vesanan attributed the quake to a mogin fault and placed its epicenter at 90 miles southwest of Seattle.

Chimneys toppled, fires broke out but were quickly extinguished, cornices gave way piling rubble on noontime shoppers scurrying from stores. A half dozen schools, three state institutional buildings at Olympia and a church collapsed.

Nuernberg War Trials Concluded

NUERNBERG, April 14.—(UP)—The Nuernberg war crimes trials ended today with the sentencing of 19 of Adolf Hitler's top aides and advisers to prison terms ranging up to 25 years.

An American tribunal handed out the sentences after convicting the 19 Nazis of crimes running from the waging of Hitler's wars of aggression to the slaughter of Jews to membership in criminal organizations.

The heaviest sentence—25 years—was imposed on Lt. Gen. Gottlob Berger, 52, one of the highest officers in Hitler's dreaded SS organization, for sending thousands of Jews to gas chambers, mistreating war prisoners, participating in the use of slave labor and membership in the SS.

Hans Heinrich Lammer, 69, chief of Hitler's Reichswehr ministry and virtual vice-chancellor of Germany, drew one of two 20-year sentences imposed.

Lammer had been found guilty of approving the slaying of allied airmen shot down over Germany, crimes against Jews, plundering Russia and other occupied countries, using slave labor and membership in criminal organizations.

The court gave a seven year sentence to the best-known defendant, Baron Ernst von Weizsaecker, 69-year-old Nazi wartime ambassador to the Vatican and, before that, a state secretary in the German foreign office.

The white-haired Weizsaecker had been convicted of planning aggressive war against Czechoslovakia and aiding in atrocities against Jews. The court held that he deported 6,000 French Jews to the Auschwitz death camp, where most of them were executed in gas chambers.

Altogether, the court imposed one sentence of 25 years, two of 20 years, three of 15 years, two of 10 years, six of seven years, one of six years, two of five years, one of four years and one of three years, 10 months and 20 days.

The sentencing ended the long series of Nuernberg war crimes trials that began in 1945 with the arraignment of Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering, Deputy Fuehrer Rudolf Hess, Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and others of Hitler's top associates.

Since that opening day, international and American tribunals have judged 220 accused war criminals in Nuernberg. They have ordered 24 defendants hanged, sent 17 to prison for life and imposed terms totaling 975 years on 82 others.

In addition, they have helped write new international law that holds individuals responsible for international crimes committed during war.

Old Gold, Cubs Lose On Diamond

DePauw and Greencastle high school's baseball teams both lost baseball tilts Wednesday making it a sad day for local diamond fans.

Avon High sent its baseball squad to this city and the Tigers were the perfect host, losing 12 to 6. Avon collected 11 hits while the Cubs chalked up 11 safeties. Cox, Taylor, Smith and Fox formed the Greencastle battery.

One of our secret agents reported this morning that Harold (Reckless) Reckless, erstwhile mushroom champion of this county, tagged a large Crappie last evening. We have waited all day for Harold to bring this beauty in to be registered in the big contest, but we suppose that the natural modesty of which he is so bountifully possessed would prohibit that. Fred Pease was in the shop with the first sizable crop of mushrooms that has been shown here. We tried to borrow one of them for a collar button, but didn't have much success. The Greencastle chapter of the Future Homemakers of America gave their annual party for the Future Farmers of America, Tuesday evening from 7:00 to 10:00.

The vocational building was decorated like a barn with bales of straw, lanterns, farm animals, and homemade cowbells.

The party started in a big way with everyone doing the "Virginia Reels."

Forest Varvel entertained with his own songs, "The Mule Song and 'Saturday's Love'."

The Sophomore ensemble sang "Daybreak."

Miss Wanda Stewart accompanied the entire group in singing.

Mr. Gene Akers team, the "Hogs" won the hilarious bean hunt, the prize was being served first.

Mr. Ben Jarvis called for square dancing. It was the first time square dancing for many.

Refreshments of spiced tea, ham salad sandwiches, homemade cookies, candy and potatoe chips were served.

Guests of honor were, Mr. and Mrs. William Bishop, Mr. Gene Akers, Mrs. Edmond Torr, Mrs. Robert Coffman, and Mrs. Melvin Thurrow. Mrs. Edmond Torr and Mrs. Robert Coffman are club mothers.

An estimate of 75 people were present and everyone thoroughly enjoyed himself.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A DIPLOMATIC publisher complimented a socialite in Richmond on her splendid appearance and added, "You feel as well as you look?" She answered, "There are only two things the matter with me: Dandruff and a badly spoiled stomach." "Aren't you lucky," commented the publisher, "that only one shows."

The lady reported the conversation faithfully to her husband a moment later. He nodded slowly and asked, "Honey, did you have your hat on at the time?"

To show what family life is like in Washington these days, Halie tells of the seven-year-old daughter of a correspondent who was shown a reproduction of Leonardo da Vinci's famous "Virgin and Child." "That is the Lord when He was a baby," explained the mother. "Who's that holding Him?" asked the publisher. "A sitter."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

There'll Always Be a "Gawker"

"Harry the Hermit," as he's called, came into town last week and, as usual, caused quite a stir. He looks like a cross between Santa Claus and Daniel Boone.

We had a friendly glass of beer together and I ask him, "Don't you ever get annoyed at the way some people laugh and stare as you go by?" "Shucks no," Harry says. "Only while they're laughin' at me, I'm feelin' a mite sorry for them. Imagine—folks so ungrateful they can't see I'm really just the same as they are underneath."

From where I sit, Harry's a lot more "civilized" than the people who make fun of him. He's contented, lives the way he believes is right without harming anyone—and what's more, he's tolerant of others whose tastes in living are different from his.

Maybe we all don't look the same, or act the same, or eat or drink the same, but in a free country, why should we?

Children Visit Central Bank

Twenty-nine children of Mr. Evans room from the Ridpath school were guests of the Central National Bank Tuesday and Thursday.

They were shown why certain windows were used for checking accounts, savings accounts and loan payments.

Operation of teller's machines for checking accounts and the safety and convenience of the Central's method of handling savings accounts and loan payments was carefully explained.

The young potential bank customers were shown how to make out deposit tickets and how to properly make out checks.

The various steps in the bank's handling of a check and deposit ticket were followed through the bank.

Probable highlights for the students were handling of a $1000. bill and the cokes they were served in the bank's basement recreation room.

Looking at Life

ERICH BRANDEIS

A lady in a small Alabama town has written my column for me today.

I don't know her. I shall probably never meet her. But I envy her, and I take my hat off to her. This column of hers will also show several people what kind of poetry I admire. These people censured me for having poked fun at poetry and told me I wouldn't know good poetry if I saw it.

Today's column came to me in the form of a letter. It is written on ruled paper in not too excellent English. It doesn't rhyme. It isn't literature. But it is the expression of a simple yet noble heart that has solved the riddle of happiness.

Here it is:

"I am one of your readers who enjoy your column. I think one of God's greatest gifts to mankind are people who can express their hearts.

"Some express their heart's feeling by music, some by singing and some by dancing. I am one of those who can do a little of all, but cannot express the feeling of my heart and soul.

"What wouldn't I give to be able to let others feel as I do when I see a sunset, or the contentment and happiness a farmer feels when he stands against the fence surveying his day's work, or when I see the suffering of a dirty little face as he looks at his pet dog whose life has just gone out!

"If I could only find words to express the feelings of a mother with her new-born babe, or the beauty of a mare watchfully grazing while her day-old colt instead waddles about.

"I always find something beautiful or gay or sad in everything I see. If I could only express myself as you do, to let others see the beautiful things God has given us to enjoy! I think that would be the greatest service one could do for his fellow men.

"I know I'll never be able to do that, but I do know my two sons, aged two and four, will enjoy the simple stories I will tell them some day as we sit by the fire. If I can only let them see the beauty of God's world, and as they grow older, I hope the day will never pass without a beautiful picture having been left in their hearts.

"Mr. Erich, my husband and I love life, as I know you and your wife do. We can laugh at our troubles together, and we really have our share. But it makes us enjoy our lives, and the good times we have together will never be forgotten.

"The radio next door is playing an Irish lullaby. Tears came to my eyes as I remembered my Papa, who was Irish and who probably rocked me to sleep with that same lullaby, while Mom did the churning or finished up the ironing.

"Well, I could go on like this for hours, and you would never understand what I am trying to say. But perhaps you would at that. It is the very simple word-in your column that makes it so enjoyable."

That, my friends, is poetry. That is literature.

And, on second thought, I will mention the writer's name. She deserves it. She is Mrs. O. G. Sealy, of Chickasaw, Ala. God bless her and her family.

BOWLING NEWS

Sunday afternoon match game bowling will hit a new high as two Brazil teams are coming to Varsity Lanes to meet the Paul's Circle Inn team and the undefeated Varsity Lanes five. The matches will be rolled on two three-game series, total pins on each series determining the winners.

Paul's Circle Inn team is one of the outstanding local teams and is at present fighting it out for first place in the Thursday night Commercial League. The team members are Ken Justis, captain, Jim Pingleton, Vern Elmore, Luther Pingleton and Woody Sutherland.

Varsity Lanes team, still undefeated this year will be made up of Morris Crawley, Ben Jarvis, Chet Crawley, Fay Slavens and Norm Scott.

The public is cordially invited to attend the matches.

JURY FREES COUPLE

VINCENNES, Ind., April 14.—(UP)—Mr. and Mrs. Morris Dupire were free today of charges that they conspired to en-bezzle funds from the Bicknell Water Co. where Mrs. Dupire worked for years as a clerk.

A Knox Circuit Court jury deliberated only 20 minutes yesterday before returning a not guilty verdict.

The couple was charged with a conspiracy over a five-year period up to 1945, during which the state claimed the utility's account's were some $21,000 short.

Neighbors and friends of the Dupires cheered when the verdict was read before Judge Ralph A. Seal. The Dupires collapsed with relief.

During the trial, the state tried to prove the Dupires spent money freely while earning salaries barely large enough to meet living expenses.

But the defense contended the State Board of Accounts found shortages in the books long before Mrs. Dupire worked there.

4,000-Mile Flight of P2V Boosts Navy's Air Stock

Plane's Feet Cheers Up Navy Carrier Advocates

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—Naval aviation may be swallowed up by the Air Force under the "tough" new deal expected under Defense Secretary Louis Johnson. However, the sky sailors are still trying to prove that carriers are essential to national defense.

Latest effort by the Navy was the "secret" flight of a twin-engine land-type bomber from a flat-top this month with a mock atom bomb. The Lockheed P2V flew 2,000 miles, dropped its "load" and flew 2,000 miles more to base.

The "secret" was let out by Adm. Louis Denfield, chief of naval operations, in San Bernardino, Cal., far from the publicity mill of Washington. Navy claims it is not trying to usurp long-range bombardment functions of the Air Force. That's the argument which has extended the bickering between the armed services and delayed unification.

The Navy reportedly had planned a round-the-world, non-stop flight during which its plane would have been refueled in mid-air from carriers, but the Air Force won the race with its globe-grinding B-50.

Admiral Louis Denfield
THE PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS—President Truman's conciliatory speech before the Conference of Mayors means that he publicly and officially has abandoned his idea of taking his legislative program to the people despite reverses in Congress.

Mr. Truman, as he plainly stated, will take what he can get and he expects it will be the major portion of his requests—a housing bill, a "satisfactory" rent bill and the Taft-Hartley law repealer. Informed congressional sources say he was talked out of stumping the nation, by his three Capitol Hill leaders.

The trio—Vice President Alben Barkley, Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas (D), Illinois, and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D), Texas—advised the president that a "purge" campaign might backfire into 1950.

ATOMIC WEAPONS?—Ever since the 1946 Bikini tests the Atomic Energy Commission has been referring to "atomic weapons" and to "new and improved atomic weapons" without any clear idea by the public as to what these terms mean.

It was obvious to laymen that control of atomic energy had not advanced to a point where the explosions could be applied, for instance, to bazooka or any "weapon" in the usual ordnance sense. Prof. H. J. Muller of Indiana university threw what appears to be some light on the subject when he declared in a Washington address that deadly atomic radiation can now be released by "plane or rocket" with an atomic explosion.

Muller was speaking of release of atomic radiation in the form of chemicals and gas. This presumably could be done with a non-atomic explosion, from a shell or other missile.

NORTH ATLANTIC BASES—State Department officials are little concerned over the statements of Iceland and Norway that if they join the North Atlantic Security Alliance they will never grant peacetime bases.

It so happens that the United States has no intention of asking for bases in either country, but officials are convinced that if these nations are brought into the pact and a threat of war develops the bases will be made available anyway.

They point out that American troops, even without benefit of a pact, were in Iceland before America entered World War II, and that there was never any difficulty about making these arrangements.

The Scandinavian country whose position is most delicate is Denmark. It is least able to defend itself, and must come into the pact with a prior agreement to grant bases to the United States in Greenland.

The United States already has three bases, called "weather stations," on Danish soil in Greenland, and has no intention of giving them up. Hence, while Danish statesmen temporize by expressing good will toward Russia, they are saying nothing about military bases.

ALL TRUCKS SPRAYED FOR DISEASE

WASHINGTON, April 14—(UP)—The 81st Congress today reached the mid-point of its first session with the House ready to knock off for a 10-day vacation, the Senate far behind in its work and President Truman's program dreadfully bogged down.

Under leadership of speaker Sam Rayburn and Rep. John W. McCormack, D. Mass., the House has been breaking legislative records. It expects today to pass the last of the nine regular appropriation bills for federal activities.

Under leadership of Vice President Alben W. Barkley and Sen. Scott W. Lucas, D. Ill., the senate is about two months behind its work.

The house expects to recess tonight at 11 April 25 under an informal agreement in which it will meet technically every three days for a couple of minutes with two or three members present, but transact no business. The Senate's Easter vacation will be from tonight until noon Monday.

After the holiday, Mr. Truman and his congressional advisers must decide what to do about the legislative log jam and how to do it. As of now, the legislative program of the Democratic party, which controls the White House and has big congressional majorities, is in very real jeopardy.

Congress has passed only three significant administration measures. Two of them were not Mr. Truman's at all but merely extensions of legislation enacted by the late Republican congress which he has described as the "second worst" in our history. The three measures were: rent control, which was a new bill, and extension of export controls and of voluntary agreements on allocations of scarce materials. Passed by both houses but in conference to compose differences between House and Senate bills is legislation on guided missiles. A conference committee agreed last night on a compromise Marshall plan extension bill, and the measure is expected to get final congressional approval later today—12 days after the administration's target date.

LATE NEWS

Secretary of the army Royal has been expected for some time. Mr. Truman said, however, that he is not yet ready to announce which jobs will be involved in the shakeup or to name the new occupants of the positions.

WASHINGTON, April 14—(INS)—President Truman today indicated his support of Secretary of State Acheson's tacit invitation to Russia to move for settlement of the Berlin blockade crisis.

Mr. Truman was asked at his news conference whether there has been any "approach" by Russia on the Berlin issue. He replied that Acheson had answered that question fully when he said that avenues for settlement of the blockade are always open between the Soviet Union and the U. S.

The following letter from the State Dept. of Education.

To whom it may concern:

On April 11, 1949, I reviewed or made a visit in the interest of the State Department of Education.

It is the opinion of the writer this program is carried on in a satisfactory manner. From the information given by Mrs. Staley and Mrs. Haltom, the writer was completely satisfied of the manner the program has been carried out.

ing the air cleaner, storage and handling of fuel and safety precautions while operating the tractor were stressed in this course.

This training proved so valuable to the boys who took the course last year it was decided to carry on such a program again this year.

Farm tractor dealers over the county were invited on March 31 at which time classes were set up for each Monday night. The meetings to be held at the offices of the different tractor dealers.

The April 4 meeting was held at the Bainbridge Implement Co. and April 11 at Howard Davis

Sale & Service. Other meetings to be held as follows:

April 18—H. & M. Tractor Sales.

April 25—Williams & Greve.

May 2—Bainbridge Co. Farm Bureau Coop.

May 9—Hester & Cooper.

May 16—Farmers Supply, Inc.

May 23—Donner Implement Co.

A separate class has been set up for the boys of Franklin township. Those boys will meet at the Hanna Store in Roachdale each week.

These 4-H club boys certainly have the cooperation of the implement dealers over the county. It is believed that a great deal of good will again come out of the courses. Boys receiving such training are able to take over the care and operation of the tractor, relieving dad of such duties. A tractor in tip top shape is about the most useful implement on the farm.

18, a Broad Ripple high school student. Both were taken to St. Vincent's hospital.

The crash occurred at 42nd street and U. S. 52 in northwest Indianapolis, just after the plane had taken off from an airfield. The occupants crawled from the wreckage and were given first aid along the highway until an ambulance arrived.

McKee is a nephew of Indiana Appellate Court Judge Floyd S. Draper.

The plane was reported to have been enroute to nearby Zionsville to deliver insecticide serum to the Indiana Cattle Breeders' Association.

Hoosier Eludes Sheriff's Posse

VIROQUA, Wis., April 14 — (UP)—A daring thief shot his way out of a trap easily today and, after stealing two cars and leading a Sheriff's posse on a merry chase, made his getaway.

Sheriff Morris Moon identified the suspect as Sydney Hart, 35, of Muncie, Ind. He said the identification was provided by an alleged accomplice, William Sparback, 18, Muncie, who was captured last night.

Pursuing Sheriff's officers chased the fleeing suspect south on highway 27 at speeds up to 80 and 90 miles an hour and finally forced his car off the road about eight miles south of here.

After turning his car in an attempt to force the sheriff's car to crash into it, the thief opened fire with two automatic pistols.

Four or five shots dug into the Sheriff's squad car, spraying Dr. R. S. Hirsh with glass so that he had to be hospitalized. Then the man ran into the woods.

The dramatic phase began last night when Hirsh reported that his car was stolen. Moon heard the radio alarm, while on his way back from Milwaukee and recognized the car speeding south on highway 27.

He forced it over to the curb and arrested Sparback. He said Sparback was carrying two loaded .45 caliber pistols in his belt but offered no resistance.

"Why pick on me," Moon quoted him as saying. "Why don't you get after my buddy in that Chevy. He and I were working together."

Moon said "that's the first we knew about Hart. He had been following along behind Sparback and passed us when I made the arrest."

Sheriff's officer Floyd Potter and Hirsh took the cue from Moon and forced the second car off the road. That car had an Indiana license plate.

Milady Buying Easter Clothing

(By United Press)
Shopping for spring outfits is keeping pre-Easter sales in women's wear at or near last year's levels, leading department stores in several major cities reported today.

Varying reports came from stores in 21 major cities on overall pre-Easter clothes buying. Some stores reported it was "well above" that of 1948. Others said it was "slightly below," and one admitted sales were "disappointing."

Few could offer any comparison in dollar or sales unit volume until the books were closed on this week, the last before Easter.

All stores pointed out comparisons with last year's pre-Easter sales were difficult, because Easter is four weeks later this year than last, and weather is a large factor in spring clothes buying. Many agreed that buying of high-priced outfits was "off" from last year's figures. Others noted that buyer were more careful.
